Kurzbeschreibung Do you remember your first love? When Dawn moved from Southern California to rainy, rural, Washington state in 1976, love took a backseat to worries about fitting in at her new school. Over time, her friendship with the boy next door grew until she realized she had found her first love without ever looking for it. Their sweet romance turned sour in 1979, and she said good-bye to that first love, apparently forever. Twenty seven years later, a chance run-in led Dawn to question whether or not first love can really last and if she can find her own happily ever after. If you remember your first love, what it was like growing up in a small town where everyone knew your secrets, or the simpler times growing up in the seventies, you will find much to relate to in Both Sides Now. Both Sides Now is a standalone true story that is a companion piece to the best-selling memoir Feels Like the First Time. They can be read separately or in any order.

ber den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Shawn Inmon hails from Mossyrock, Washington--the setting for his first two full-length books, Feels Like the First Time and Both Sides Now. By day he works in real estate with a side of public speaking; prior to that, he has DJed, sold stuff that you definitely wanted, cooked your hamburgers, fished for crabs in the Aleutian Sea, bought for department stores, and done business consulting. He is married to his high school sweetheart, Dawn, who co-authored Both Sides Now with him. He is a father of five, grandfather of five and best pal of two chocolate labs named Hershey and Sadie.
